Our top tips for staying cyber safe

In today's digital world, protecting your personal and work-related information is more important than ever, as cybercriminals are constantly looking for ways to steal passwords, hack accounts and access sensitive data. M & S, Harrods and Co-op are among the major retailers that have recently been targeted by cyber attacks, and some of our own practices and businesses have also been hit.

Mia McGuigan, our director of information security, has put together some advice to help keep your information secure and give you peace of mind. Read Mia's top tips here.
